The structure of the job interview

Before the interview

… you might get an unexpected phone call
… confirm the appointment or arrange an alternative interview date
… ask who'll be there and what topics you'll be discussing
… do your research on the company
… get some questions ready
… pick out what you're going to wear
… plan how to get there or, if your interview is online, check your equipment

Introduction

… arrival
… welcome and meeting your interviewer(s)
… self-presentation, e.g. "Tell us about yourself"
… information about the company

Main section

… questions about your CV and your suitability for the job
… questions designed to show how you'd behave in certain situations

Conclusion

… your questions about the position and the company
… conclusion of the interview
… agreement on the next steps and farewell

After the interview

… write an email saying thank-you
… you may get invited to a second interview, an assessment center, or to meet the team
